Umut, this is very confidential. I tried to calm down Pinar who still 'wants to ensure you are not going to harm any woman at work' and is digging into your past. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I asked her what would stop her short of a complaint against you which she was contemplating. She wants to change supervision arrangements and she is calling the European Commission to see if this is possible. Do not under any circumstances contact her because she is going to do something stupid and dangerous. I think you can tell her (through me) you are going to step down for personal reasons. I think this is the only way she will stop obsessively digging into your past and possibly making a complaint.

Dear Anneli,

It is very important for me that the reason for the change of supervision is NOT stated as Umut's son's illness, because it is not true. So with all due respect, I do not accept such wording in my official letter. I have filed an official complaint against Umut and whatever the result might be, I cannot and will not work with someone who harassed me. I think the existing wording was already a formal and objective way to put it, without causing harm to the institution or Umut.

So please do let me know about the process please. This is very important for me and I take it extremely seriously.

Thank you very much.

Kind regards,

Pinar

Hej,

Yes, the documents are signed, but not uploaded – I have emailed Marius to let him know. Malou wanted another wording in the description of the reason for the change, but she needs a response from Dalia before it is uploaded. The new wording is in line with my first suggestion to you.

Best wishes
Anneli

Dear Anneli,

I hope this mail finds you well. I was wondering if we signed and uploaded the documents?

Many thanks,
Pinar

Dear Dalia,

I am sure you saw me hesitating for a moment to tell you why exactly I wanted Umut to be out of this project immediately. Since he has now sent an email writing in capital blocks and in bold that this has nothing to do with a particular colleague, I have nothing to remain silent about anymore.

The hacker hacked Umut's account on Sunday to post these two posts I am attaching to this email. Out of Umut's 4800 facebook friends it was only my name and my surname that was mentioned there. The hacker then contacted me, telling me he was protecting me. He then started threatening me, not to make a complaint and to cause Umut to lose his job. Umut also paid the hacker $1000 after the hacking incident (and he reported this to the police as well) explaining he did this "because I panicked and I wanted to protect you".

Just to make things clear, I have no intention of accusing Umut about this. HOWEVER, I feel worried, harassed that it was only my name that was up there from 4800 other people on Umut's facebook account. I wanted to know who was behind this, I need to know it was not Umut for sure, which is unfortunately not an easy task. I reported the issue to Lund University Security officer and the police. I am trying to contact people working at facebook.

As this incident was a rare case, I did some google research and saw an article saying sometimes when you hire a hacker the hacker turns sides and blackmails you. Please see the attached screenshot from that article.

Under these circumstances, I do not want to work with Umut until his innocence is proved. I am very VERY SORRY that he deals with this while my dear Luca is going through such a difficult time. My heart goes with Luca, his mother, his family.

Kind Regards,
Pinar Dinc
